

CACE Conference 2013: Featured Speakers

October 5 to 8, 2013

Please note that this list of feature speakers and presenters does not include CACE member presenters, who will be selected and announced later this Spring.

Keynote address	Darrell Dennis: stage, television and film actor, comedian, screenwriter, host of two seasons of CBC Radio's myth-busting "Revision Quest"; member of the Shuswap First Nation
Keynote address	Tewanee Joseph: CEO of Tewanee Consulting Group leading progressive approaches to aboriginal relations, communications and strategic planning; member of the Squamish First Nation
Featured speaker	David Starr: Elementary school principal, writer and author of From Bombs to Books: the remarkable stories of refugee children and their families
Featured speaker	Dene Rossouw: former paratrooper, preacher and media spokesperson, today Dene is an author, photographer and principal of Authentic Dialogue consulting
	Kimberly A. Schonert-Reichl: Ph.D., Professor, Faculty of Education at the University of British Columbia; author, award-winning teacher and researcher, advocate for children's positive human qualities, including empathy, compassion, and kindness WITH Maria LeRose: television producer, director, host. Communications consultant; Masters of Education with an emphasis on social and emotional development
Feature Panel #1	"Speaking of Good Design": award-winning graphic designers Sigrid Albert (StepUp Communications), David Coates (Ion Design), and Casey Hyrnkow (Herrainco)

Feature Panel #2 “Collaborating in a Crisis: working effectively with law enforcement”— a panel of law enforcement officers and communicators will share perspectives and strategies to address crisis communications

Special guest speaker Joe Krumm: NSPRA president, director of community and government relations for North Clackamas School District, Oregon

Presenter Julie Ovenell-Carter: award-winner writer, author, principal of Ovenell-Carter Communications and assistant director of external relations at Simon Fraser University

Presenter Mary Charleson: author, marketing professional, president of Charleson Communications—a market research, strategy and advertising development agency

Presenter Crystal Stranaghan: author, publisher, technology and communication consultant specializing in electronic publishing and principal of Crystal Clear Solutions